SUMMARY

I am a writer, editor and videographer based in Kennington, London. I am a recent graduate of Ravensbourne University, having developed excellent writing skills through my studies, alongside practical experience in producing digital media.

EDUCATION

Ravensbourne University, London

BA (Hons) Digital Film Production

September 2017 – July 2020

New College Lanarkshire, Greater Glasgow

Higher National Diploma: Television

August 2015 – June 2017

Pathways to Film and Photography

January 2015 – June 2015

SKILL SET

Highly developed writing skills, with creative and academic experience.

Proficient in major software suites including Adobe Creative Cloud (Photoshop, Premiere, After Effects, Audition), Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, Outlook, PowerPoint, OneDrive), MAGIX Vegas, GIMP, Audacity, Final Draft and WriterDuet.

Experienced photographer and videographer, having recorded music videos, interviews, live performances and short films.

Practiced in operating Canon, Sony, Panasonic, Black Magic, Arri and Neewer brands of equipment.

Confident in taking initiative and working alone, but capable of supporting others in groups and sharing responsibilities.

Experience in handling social media platforms, such as YouTube, Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat and Reddit.

EXPERIENCE

Freelance

2015 – Present

I have freelanced several creative and technical disciplines: copywriter, subtitler, screenwriter, videographer, video and audio editor, graphic artist and 1st assistant director. I have performed these roles in major cities across the United Kingdom, including London, Birmingham and Glasgow.

BBC Social

2020 – Present

I was commissioned by a digital platform of the BBC, known as the BBC Social, to create content for their network. In this capacity, I utilised my skills as a writer, performer, videographer and editor.

Ravensbourne Societies

2017 – 2019

I was a contributing member of the societies at my university, particularly the LGBT+ society, acting as social media manager and events organiser.

The Alpha Project

2016 – 2017

Whilst at New College Lanarkshire, I secured work experience with a local charity, who provide support for adults with mental health difficulties. I worked closely with the staff to promote the organisation and interviewed some individuals the charity helped, which was a difficult but extremely rewarding task.

Machinima.com

2012 – 2014

Initially a fan of their content, I worked with the online multimedia organisation, Machinima. I aided with production planning, copywriting and acted as an assistant editor.

INTERESTS

In my free time, I enjoy seeing friends, watching YouTube, listening to podcasts, going to see stage shows, gaming and writing.
